DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

3. Claims 7, 9 and 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Biesiada et al. or Lang et al. or Ohachi.

4. The rejection set forth in the previous office action is proper and is herein repeated. The limitation of the plasticizer does not render the claims patentable. This is a known plasticizer and has been used in PVC materials. It would be obvious to use this plasticizer in the compositions given that it is listed and the art directs one to select the plasticizers from the list.

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Biesiada et al. or Lang et al. or Ohachi taken in view of Nishi.

6. The rejection set forth in the previous office action is proper and is herein repeated. The limitation of the plasticizer does not render the claims patentable. This is a known plasticizer and has been used in PVC materials. It would be obvious to use this plasticizer in the compositions given that it is listed and the art directs one to select the plasticizers from the list. The formation of gloves is obvious from the Nishi patent.

7. Claims 3, 4, 13 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Biesiada et al. or Lang et al. or Ohachi taken in view of Tada and Nishi.

8. The rejection set forth in the previous office action is proper and is herein repeated. The primary references render the claimed material obvious for the reasons advanced supra. Tada shows the use of the claimed crosslinking agent. The formation of gloves remains obvious from Nishi et al. Applicants do not argue this rejection.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
